

PERSONAL TAX PLANNING GUIDE 2023

Imagine what you could do with tax saved?

- Reduce your home loan
- Top up your super
- Have a holiday
- Deposit for an Investment Property
- Pay for your children's education
- Upgrade your Car

Now's the time to review what strategies you can use to minimise your tax before 30 June 2023.

The most important thing to remember is that there is no point in spending money to get a tax deduction unless it's going to result in something useful for you.

END OF THE LMITO (LOW AND MIDDLE INCOME TAX OFFSET)

The 2021–22 income year was the last year for the LMITO and is not available for future income years. The LMITO was an offset, meaning that it reduced the tax you pay (known as your tax payable) on your taxable income.

Low to middle income earners may see their tax refunds for the 2023 financial year and beyond reduce by between $675 and $1,500.

No changes were made to the low-income tax offset (LITO) and the LITO will continue to apply for the 2023 and future income years.

SUPERANNUATION CONTRIBUTIONS

While you might not be flush with cash now and able to put large amounts into superannuation, it's important that you are aware of what is possible to maximise your super balance and possibly reduce your tax at the same time.

DEDUCTIBLE SUPER CAP OF $27,500 FOR EVERYONE

The tax-deductible super contribution limit (or "cap") is $27,500 per year for all individuals under age 75.

To save tax, consider making the maximum tax-deductible super contribution this year before 30 June 2023.

Individuals may be able to make tax-deductible personal contributions to superannuation to reduce their taxable income. The advantage of this strategy is that superannuation contributions are taxed at between 15% to 30% compared to typical personal income tax rates of between 34.5% and 47%. Those aged 67 to 74 will need to meet the work test if they wish to claim a personal superannuation deduction for their contribution.

CARRIED FORWARD CONTRIBUTIONS

Carry-forward contributions are not a new type of contribution, they are simply new rules that allow super fund members to use any of their unused concessional contributions limit (or cap) on a rolling basis for five years.

This means if you don't use the full amount of your concessional contribution cap ($25,000 from 2019 to 2021, and $27,500 for 2021 to 2023), you may qualify to carry-forward the unused amount and take advantage of it up to five years later.

Carry-forward contributions are calculated on a rolling basis over five years, but any amount not used after five years expires. These carry-forward rules only relate to concessional contributions into super, not non-concessional contributions, as they have different caps.

15 WAYS TO REDUCE YOUR TAX

SPOUSE SUPER CONTRIBUTIONS

You can make super contributions on behalf of your spouse (married or de facto), provided you meet eligibility criteria and your super fund allows it. This is known as contribution splitting.

Doing this not only helps to boost your spouse's retirement savings, it can also help you save tax if your spouse has limited income.

You may be eligible for a tax offset of up to $540 on super contributions of up to $3,000 that you make on behalf of your spouse if your spouse's income is $37,000 p.a. or less.

The offset gradually reduces for income above $37,000 p.a. and completely phases out at $40,000 p.a. and above.

ADDITIONAL TAX ON SUPER CONTRIBUTIONS BY HIGH INCOME EARNERS

The income threshold at which the additional 15% ('Division 293') tax is payable on super contributions is $250,000 p.a. Where you are required to pay this additional tax, making super contributions within the cap is still a tax effective strategy.

With super contributions taxed at a maximum of 30% and investment earnings in super taxed at a maximum of 15%, both these tax points are more favourable when compared to the highest marginal tax rate of 47% (including the Medicare levy).

GOVERNMENT CO-CONTRIBUTION TO YOUR SUPER

If you are on a lower income and earn at least 10% of your income from employment or carrying on a business and make a "non-concessional contribution" to super, you may be eligible for a Government co-contribution of up to $500.

In 2023, the maximum co-contribution is available if you contribute $1,000 and earn $42,016 or less. A lower amount may be received if you contribute less than $1,000 and/or earn between $42,016 and $57,016.

OWNERSHIP OF INVESTMENTS

A longer-term tax planning strategy can be reviewing the ownership of your investments. Any change of ownership needs to be carefully planned due to capital gains tax and stamp duty implications. Please seek advice from your Accountant prior to making any changes.

Investments may be owned by a Family Trust, which has the key advantage of providing flexibility in distributing income on an annual basis and an ability for up to $416 per year to be distributed to children or grandchildren tax-free.

PROPERTY DEPRECIATION REPORT

If you have an investment property, a Property Depreciation Report (prepared by a Quantity Surveyor) will allow you to claim depreciation and capital works deductions on capital items within the property and on the property itself.

The cost of this report is generally recouped several times over by the tax savings in the first year of property ownership.

MOTOR VEHICLE LOG BOOK

Ensure that you have kept an accurate and complete Motor Vehicle Log Book for at least a 12-week period. The start date for the 12-week period must be on or before 30 June 2023. You should make a record of your odometer reading as at 30 June 2023 and keep all receipts/invoices for your motor vehicle expenses (excluding petrol). Once prepared, a log book can generally be used for a 5-year period.

An alternative (with no log book needed) is to simply claim up to 5,000 business kilometres (based on a reasonable estimate) using the cents per km method.

SACRIFICE YOUR SALARY TO SUPER

If your annual income is $45,000 or more, salary sacrifice can be a great way to boost your superannuation and pay less tax. By putting pre-tax salary into super rather than having it taxed as normal income at your marginal rate you may save tax. This can be especially beneficial for employees nearing their retirement age.

As making additional contributions to your superfund is an investment strategy. Before doing so, you should consider seeking professional advice from a registered financial adviser.

PREPAY EXPENSES AND INTEREST

Expenses relating to investment activities can be prepaid before 30 June 2023. You can prepay up to 12 months of interest before 30 June on a loan for a property or share investment and claim a tax deduction this financial year. Also, other expenses in relation to your investments can be prepaid before 30 June, including rental property repairs, memberships, subscriptions, and journals.

GIFTS AND DONATIONS

You can only claim a tax deduction for gifts or donations to organisations that have the status of deductible gift recipients (DGRs). Full ATO details on donations you can claim can be found here.

Bucket donations (eg collections by an approved organisation for natural disaster victims) of $2 and up to $10 can be made without a receipt.

INSURANCE PREMIUMS

Possibly your greatest financial asset is your ability to earn an income.

Income Protection Insurance generally replaces up to 75% of your salary if you are unable to work due to sickness or an accident. The insurance premium is normally tax deductible, unless paid via your superannuation fund, plus you get the benefit of protecting your family's lifestyle if you cannot work due to sickness or an accident. It's a small price to pay for peace of mind. Like rental property interest, income protection premiums can also be prepaid for 12 months to increase your deductions.

WORK RELATED EXPENSES

Don't forget to keep any receipts for work-related expenses such as uniforms, training courses and learning materials, as these may be tax deductible.

HOME OFFICE EXPENSES

Employees working from home are ordinarily able to claim deductions for expenses relating to work. The ATO allows you to claim using a "Revised Fixed Rate Method" an amount of $0.67 per work hour for the 2023 year. Previous year rates no longer apply.

Visit the ATO for full details on this arrangement, including details on what you can and can't claim if using the traditional expense claim method.

REALISE CAPITAL LOSSES

Tax is normally payable on any capital gains. You should consider selling any non-performing investments you hold before 30 June 2023 to crystallise a capital loss and reduce or even eliminate any potential capital gains tax liability. Unused capital losses can be carried forward to offset future capital gains.

DEFER INVESTMENT INCOME & CAPITAL GAINS

If practical, arrange for the receipt of Investment Income (e.g. interest on term deposits) and the Contract Date for the sale of Capital Gains assets, to occur AFTER 30 June 2023. The Contract Date (not the Settlement Date) is generally the key date for working out when a sale or purchase occurred.

IS AN SMSF SUITABLE FOR YOU?

Now is a good time to seek specific advice in relation to this question, as it may be appropriate to establish an SMSF in conjunction with other tax planning opportunities, to maximise the benefit of the SMSF in your circumstances.
